SOLD, BUT STILL HOME: Glazier Foods Co. will lease back its distribution facility from GSL Welcome Group.

Glazier sells its home but will lease it back

GLAZIER Foods Co. has sold its 286,000-square-foot headquarters and distribution facility to GSL Welcome Group and will lease back the property. Situated on 33 acres at 11303 Antoine Drive near the North Sam Houston Parkway, the property was purchased by GSL Fund 21 GF Sub E. GSL will expand the facility by 160,000 square feet in the freezer/dry storage areas. GE Capital provided financing for the acquisition and funding for the $14 million expansion. Construction is expected to be completed within 12 months. "The market was at a point where it provided a good return to the owner and also facilitated our ability to get the capital funds to expand the warehouse without putting a strain on the existing shareholders," said John Miller, Glazier's chief financial officer.

Glazier moved to the new facility in 2005 after consolidating from five buildings near downtown. The firm, which provides food service to restaurants, schools, nursing homes, hospitals, hotels, sporting venues and country clubs, had planned on adding a second phase as business grew. Pat Pollan and Jackie Ritchie of Yancey-Hausman Commercial Real Estate Services marketed the property for Glazier Foods. The family-owned company was founded in Houston in 1936. Glazier's sales totaled about $400 million in the latest fiscal year. The firm has about 600 employees serving all of Texas and parts of Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. It has another warehouse in Farmers Branch, north of Dallas.
